Summer Reading 2004, where...

Readers Rule!

A cooperative project of the Maryland State Department of Education and Public Libraries in Maryland and the District of Columbia.

1. Start by drawing a shield.
2. Add drawings or photographs that might best represent and symbolize your family.
Here are some ideas:
• Flags of countries family members came from
• Favorite family foods
• Family events, holidays, celebrations, activities, vacations
3. In each section, draw a picture and/or glue a photograph or picture from a magazine that shows one idea about your family.
4. Share your shield with other family members.

Summer Reading 2004, where...

Readers Rule!

Once upon a time,
reading was fun...

Now, it's even better!

Kids of all ages can enter the Reading Realm, where Sneaks and friends from fairy tales and folklore dwell. Here you'll find familiar faces and many new ones, with tales from around the world.

Complete the four quests listed below. Have an adult initial. When all quests are complete, you're a Reading Legend!

(You'll find folk and fairy tales in the 398 section of your library. Ask a librarian for help and live happily ever after!)

Ask an adult to help you.

For porridge as delicious as the Three Bears', use instant oatmeal packets or a box of quick oats. Follow the cooking directions, then customize with fresh or dried fruit, nuts, spices, even chocolate chips! Add milk and you've got a treat Goldilocks would love!

Read anytime, anyplace!

Reading may replace any of the suggested activities.
